WINE

August is Washington Wine Month and we are excited to celebrate some of the fantastic producers that are creating wonderful wines in our own backyard. Each of these featured producers are thoughtful custodians of the land they are honored to cultivate.

From acclaimed Washington Winemaker Jeff Lindsay-Thorsen, the creative mind behind W.T. Vintners, comes one of his most exciting projects to date. Fully embracing his low intervention style, these wines speak loudly of the place and the team that have created them.

Gorgiste Gamay...77

THE WALLS

Todd Alexander could have been perfectly content making wine for cult winery Bryant Estate in California. Instead, he chose to migrate to Washington and start several projects of his own - including The Walls, a label that pays homage to the state penitentiary in Walla Walla that was their claim to fame before wine took root in the area.

The Walls 'Curiositas' Cabernet Sauvignon 2019...110

ECHOLANDS WINERY

Winemaker Doug Frost is not only a Master Sommelier, but a Master of Wine - one of only three people in the world to hold both titles simultaneously. To say he is a genius in the world of wine is an understatement and his wines reflect that sentiment perfectly. Expertly crafted, biodynamic with minimal intervention, they represent what Washington wines aspire to be.

Echolands Syrah 2019...79

In an industry dominated by men, No Girls "celebrates the belief that empowered women create empowered wine—and champions the many talented and independent women of this profession and beyond." Winemaker Elizabeth Bourcier has certainly spearheaded this belief, taking the reins of the much lauded Cayuse empire to phenomenal results.

No Girls 'La Paciencia' Tempranillo...275
